

Box plot type is schematic: the box shows median and interquartile range (IQR, the box edges); the whiskers extend to the minimum and maximum data points within 1.5 IQR below 25% and above 75%, respectively. Values outside the whiskers are shown as outliers. Means are marked with a different symbol for each treatment. Red dots indicate measures outside the normal reference range.